Administrative/ Biographical Sketch	Rockwood Academy was founded in 1850 by Rev. William Wetherald, an English Quaker. The location had earlier been used for other educational purposes by various extended members of the Wetherald family. The earliest building was a simple log house, but as the reputation and popularity of the school grew a new Georgian style building of local limestone was constructed. Donald McCaig and Alexander McMillan succeeded Wetherald as principal. The school remained in operation until 1882. The building was purchased and restored in 1960 by Josef Drenters. One publication was produced in conjunction with the erection of a historic plaque and the other publication was sponsored by the Ontario Heritage Foundation.
